We wish to inform our Volunteers, Visitors, Coaches, Parents, Officials, Youth and all other participants and spectators that hunting, target shooting, and other such youth activities, (hereinafter Shooting Sports) are not risk free. The same elements that contribute to the unique character and fun of Shooting Sports and hunting such as the physical exertion or the settings can cause loss or damage to equipment, injury, illness, or in extreme cases, permanent trauma, or death. We do not want to heighten or reduce your enthusiasm for the experience, but we do want you to know in advance what to expect, and to be informed of the possible risks. We ask that you read this, sign it, and return it to our office.

EXPRESS ASSUMPTION OF THE RISK

There are risks that accompany all aspects of life as well as Shooting Sports. Some of these risks are inherent in the activity; some are changed, increased or decreased due to the activities of TWF. You must understand and accept all the risks of the activity, inherent and others.

Kids enjoy life. In that process kids fall down, get back up and keep having fun. Sometimes though a kid might not get back up as quickly or bounce back as fast. As a parent you well know, there is no way to prevent a child from falling down or getting hurt. TWF will do the best job we can to help your child bounce back and enjoy the activity. However you need to acknowledge and understand that no matter how many staff or how much work we do, sometimes a child can get hurt.

Any activity involving rifles, shotguns or other firearms runs the risk of an accident. Before allowing your child to attend any event, prepare your child by going through the safety issues you expect your child to know and understand when working with firearms. Make sure your child knows how the firearm will work, how it is to be loaded, carried, transported and handled. Your child must know how the safety on any weapon provided works or how the weapon is to be disabled to prevent discharge. Decisions are made by the instructors, coaches and participants in a rural setting, based on a variety of perceptions and evaluations which by their nature are imprecise and subject to errors in judgment. Decisions are based on experience, observation, participant abilities and numerous other factors at the time. Weather can change, participants can tire, and abilities are not as stated which may change the entire situation placing people at risk. As a participant, you accept these risks and situations based on guide decisions and other factors.

Participants may have free and unsupervised time. Throughout the program, participants are responsible for their own safety and for the safety of other members of their group. It is also possible that some participants would suffer mental anguish or trauma from the experience or their injuries. Travel to and from the Shooting Sports activity is incidental to the Shooting Sports. Accidents can occur during travel to and from the activity site.

This list is not an exclusive or exhaustive list of possible injuries; trauma or accidents that may occur while engaging in any of the Shooting Sports described above, or that you may encounter. Most of these injuries are rare, and you are not likely to encounter them. However, they have occurred, and you need to know about them and other possible injuries not mentioned above. These injuries occur more often when the participants are using drugs or alcohol or not physically able to undertake the activity.
